OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Thursday - 26 October 1967

3 1. (Internal Use Only - CEA) Diane Gould, in the office of Representative Bob Casey (D., Texas), called to inquire how to handle a constituent letter concerning the Garrison investigation. I suggested she forward it to the Agency and we would prepare a suggested reply for the Congressman's signature.

2. (Unclassified - CEA) Helen Staples, in the office of Representative Hale Boggs (D., La.), called to inquire about the possibility for Agency employment by a constituent who will see Boggs on 28 October. From Miss Staples' description it appears that the constituent has a background which would be most attractive to the Agency. I recommended that if the constituent will be in Washington on 30 October she call first thing in the morning and I would make arrangements for a personnel interview. If this is not possible, I suggested that the constituent write to the Agency for employment forms.

3. (Internal Use Only - CEA) James Cook, in the office of Representative Frank Horton (R., N.J.), called to complain about what he considered rude treatment on the part of our guards at the Ames Building who refused to tell him the name of the Government agency occupying the building. On checking with Security I learned that the building guard had made a report and that Cook had been most rude and overbearing without identifying himself. I subsequently talked to Cook and explained that we have had some problem with mentally disturbed people entering the building and others who have attempted provocations and for that reason we do not publicize the Agency's occupancy. I did note that had he identified himself he would have received courteous treatment and a proper answer to his question. Cook thanked me for having looked into this and appeared to be completely mollified.
